Note: Names in red are subs

The Sunday morning league is all over bar the shouting for another season (plenty of that I hope at the Dinner on Friday evening). Champions Graham Crooks and Karuna Sivajoti suffered their second defeat of the season at the hands of Jack Smith and Mal Stuart who head no less than 5 teams on 21 points on hole difference in the middle of the table. But that was not where the action was this week.

Trevor Charlesworth owes a great debt of gratitude to Dave Hogg for making no less than 9 appearances for his team this season and holding on to second place with Mike Micklethwaite. They faced "King of the Twos" Howard Whiteley and another regular sub Roger Robinson. It was a close game but the 3-0 win was all they needed.

It was a good job they did win because the following pack of 4 teams all won as well and the trophies were decided or hole difference. David Hey and Kevin Mawer trounced Stuart and Mikey Large 9-0 to give them a hole difference of 40 and third place. Hot on their heels were Paul Jackson and their 10-appearance sub Peter Clinker on 36 holes difference as a result of their 6-0 win against Ralph Lofthouse and sub Keith Crowther.

Ralph was philosophical about their bottom position because they really did not play that badly as most of their opponents admit. Great credit to Ralph and Nick for stepping into the breach at the last minute at the start of the season.

The unfortunate teams to miss out on the trophies on hole difference were Gordon Fisher and Jeff Copeland and Graham Beales and Rob Carter, this despite wins for both of them this week 5-0 and 4-0 respectively.

Thanks for another great season and watch out for the new one starting in October.

The list is up for our prize presentation on 21st April (Good Friday). Very, very last orders by lunchtime Tuesday by ringing me at work 01937 845176. mobile 07966 236803.
